

King

Karen O

The King of Pop is dead and gone away
No one'll ever take his place
He's in his castle in the sky
Watching over you and I

And with his single sparkling glove
He blows us kisses, show us love
Is he walking on the moon?
I hope I don't find out too soon