

One Day You'll Be Fine

Kari Kimmel

You told me to fight, i gave it a try and hoped that you were right.

I don't wanna stay to make it okay for just a while.

Oh, when i see how much you're hurting, i wanna do anything to make it end.

It may take you, it may break you.

But you'll wake up one day and you will be fine.

It may haunt you, but it will stop soon.

And you'll wake up one day and you will be fine.

Its so hard to stop, i want to pick off where we left off yesterday.

When you came to my door, all smiles before i said the things that i said today.

Oh, when i see how much you're crying i wanna do anything to make it right.

It may take you, it may break you.

But you'll wake up one day and you will be fine.

It may haunt you, but it will stop soon.

And you'll wake up one day and you will be fine. (3x)
