

Cinderella

Kari Rueslåtten

She is just passing through Last year and the year before She is just passing through you

She washed the day away instead of making it allright
She washed the day away
- How brave

You don't have to let her in just listen and let her begin

She is Cinderella in disguise [sic] or The Mermaid in despite of her very human feet dancing in her Ballroom Suite

You never did treat her well oh, sure you had nice words to sell
You never did treat her well
- and you know it

She has come here today and I don't think she's here to stay

Cinderella has to go oh, I wish it was not so As the clock soon will strike twelve we will find her as herself