

Cry

Kari Rueslåtten

I walk out of the shade into the light
For what must be the very first time
I don't walk fast I'm enjoying each step
Then I see you from a distance

And I smile
Smile through my tears

Falling apart is not for me
I'd rate stick to fight
When I've been here for years
For a thousand years
There will still be dark days ahead

I cry even though I smile
Smiling through tears is something that I will recomend
Sometimes when you're near
Oh, I sense you in here
I know it has taken a while for me to come clear

It's getting darker outside
I put on a coat
It's been a while since I felt cold
