Hold on

Kari Rueslåtten

You were the dancer in the dark found ways to seize a spark Even when the world came tumbling down You left this place with not return In a while I got to learn They had come to take you away Standing still in the faint sunset light I still see your shape

You You have to hold on

You were the dancer in the dark found ways to seize a spark Even when the world came tumbling down When all you see is gloomy days You tend to hide your face You will always be the same to me

I won't let them take you away this time, don't let go...

You... You have to hold on, You have to hold on

Tonight there's a storm coming This time it hits you so hard All you can do is long for tomorrow and your dreams will be made of dreams Standing still in the faint sunset light I still see your shape...
