

Never Fly Away

Kari Rueslåtten

i know when you are hurting your pain is mine
let me carry you through the morning mist and on to the bridge let us talk about the hard times find shelter in my hands give your thoughts some rest as there are two of us tonight
until you have tried everything give it one more day good things lie in wait hold on to yourself you know that the wind will change i cannot be your eyes but i will try to make you see that beauty lies underneath your skin this fight is yours to win a piece of this moment is all it will ever take stay afloat and stay right here be as one with me oh, nothing tastes as sweet now as it once did in time you know it will
