

Tension

Karin Park

It's not like poetry It's not a pirouette, it's not a symphony or a melody

It's nothing like the stars It's not like city lights It's nothing like a dream

It's just me

But when we touch When you come this close Eye to eye Sailing on each other's sea

Do you feel the tension Do you feel the tension Dangerous and pure
Real and nothing more Do you feel the tension The tension

I know the rules made up and I know all about the things that we decide to tame the wild

I know the history about the kings and queens of love and tragedy
But this is me

It's not magic There's no mystery Nothing sacred Just a shiver in my body

Do you feel the tension Do you feel the tension Dangerous and pure
Real and nothing more Do you feel the tension The tension
