

What's on your mind I dare to ask
The feeling within we try to mask
Broken again, the stars
Those steel pews, they part
Now you realize what just passed you by

You want some?

Head out, I pray for you
It's so soft and safe
And life forgives
The gift they took from you
Say too late, I've become what I most fear
To change could make my view seem so clear

The pain
Why you wanna step through me
What did those eyes just see
Nothing left here but the replica
The replica exists here

Say too late, I've become what i most fear
To change could make my view seem so clear

The pain
Why you wanna step through me
What did those eyes just see
Nothing left here but the replica
The replica exists here

Stop heading cause your never gonna touch me
Stop heading cause your never gonna touch this
Stop heading cause your never gonna touch me
Stop heading cause your never gonna see...

You'll see, reality escapes
From what I've found
This is not for me to say
Go your way, find yourself
Go your way, let this be my shelf

So come test this
Now come test it
So come test this
Now come test it
So come test this
Now come test this
So come test this
Now come test this

Hey...

Who am I to stand here before
Who am I to stand here before
A question that's raised
So you better just answer
You're thinking fast,

You think you're better
Who am I to stand alone
Who am I to stand alone
Feel the burning, take control
I want it back, the life you stole

The pain
Why you wanna step through me
What did those eyes just see
Nothing left here but the replica
The replica exists here

Stop heading cause your never gonna touch me
Stop heading cause your never gonna touch this
Stop heading cause your never gonna touch me
Stop heading cause your never gonna see...

You'll see, reality escapes
From what I've found
This is not for me to say
Go your way, find yourself
Go your way...