Is it possible to know if I'm telling a lie? It's treading with a piece A piece that I can not hide It's running with a smile It's better than the last time that I tried So sing it with your soul It's coming and it's never late when I come home

Egotistical, Egotistical, Ego Fall Egotistical, Egotistical, Ego Fall Below Egotistical, we know, we know, we know

Is it possible to know if I'm dead or alive? It's treading with a piece, a piece that I can not hide

It's running with a smile It's better than the last time that I tried So sing it without soul And it's coming it's never late when I come home

Leave no light on for me Leave no light on, this war, it rages in me Leave no light on, this war, it rages in me Leave no light on, this war, I fear it won't end Leave no light on, this war, rages

It's running with a smile It's better than the last time that I tried So sing it with your soul And it's coming it's never late when I It's running with a smile It's better than the last time that I tried So sing it with your soul And it's coming it's never late when I come home

Help me I need light
