Graceland

I wish I lived in Graceland But I only had one day A postcard from the main land Is all I have today

Forty thousand million And a Rolls Royce engine Couldn't take me anywhere

Yes, I tried with aspirin And a nice calm weekend But my heart has left me here

I wish I had that skin tan That you are born into They'd see me as a warm man Just like they're seeing you

Forty thousand million...

I drown in my drool Over all the goodies that they get I drown in a pool In a pool of my own sweat

Forty thousand million...
