Throw away all the things you hesitate Don't imagine all what you can forsake All I want is what you can make Don't destroy all the things at stake

Try to think of a life at ease Taking all of the things you please

Baby, I know just what you need Baby, I know just what you need Sugar, don't let this love ever cease Sugar, don't let this love ever cease

Baby, I know just what you need Baby, I know just what you need Sugar, don't let this love ever cease Sugar, don't let this love ever cease
