Open Scars

Kataklysm

testify to heal the wounds inside Walk the path of endless lies In denial of a wretched past

Walk the walk of a guilty man Scarred from years of deadly abise I' pulling through with everything I can't undo

The stress is killing me inside This chaos... so devine To please everyone... everyone but myself The pain is deafening, crushing all that is challenged I really wonder if one day I'll surrender

Open Scars.. these wounds will never heal Open Scars... this heart you'll never steal

Shutdown...

Justify this rage thats roaming over Empty all your world, empty out your soul To sacrifice it all for the sake of others and no one gives a fuck that my life is over the stress is killing me inside The chaos.. so so devine To please everyone... everyone but myself The pain is deafening, crushing all that is challenged I really wonder if one day I'll surrender

Open Scars.. these wounds will never heal Open Scars... this heart you'll never steal
