

Changing With The Years

Kate Ceberano

As a little girl I used to hate the rain
Rain put an end to games I'd love to play
Rain meant running off the beach
And spoilt a perfect day
As a little girl the rain was not my friend
Picnics were out no pretty clothes to wear
Rain meant staying in all day
Or ruining my hair

But I guess I'm changing with the years
Cause now I love the rain it clears the air
Making mirrors out of sidewalks
Painting rainbows everywhere
As a little girl I never liked that boy
Called me names then he'd laugh and run away
I would try and hide from him
'But that was yesterday

So I guess I'm changing with the years
Cause now I love that boy
He's by my side
Making mirrors out of sidewalks
Painting rainbows just for me to ride
Sax solo
Calendars and clocks are no
Excuse for tears I'm so glad I've been
Changing with the years

So I guess I'm changing with the years
Now I love the rain it clears the air
Making mirrors out of sidewalks
Painting rainbows everywhere
So I guess I'm changing with the years
Cause now I love that boy
He's by my side
Making mirrors out of sidewalks
Painting rainbows just for me to ride
Changing with the years my life's been Changing, changing ...
