

Sun Will Rise

Kate Voegele

I felt the ocean, closing in around me
I was lost and I was drowning
I could hear the water pounding
Surrounding me

I was swallowed up in my despair
A pain I've never known
Oh I'm sinking but
I'm not made of stone

Now hold on to hope
I'm not alone
I know my faith will take me home
And I'm gonna fight, harder than I cry
Yeah

Love is enough
I won't give up
I'm gonna hold my head above
I believe that even through the darkest night
The sun will rise

I get the notion,
Now and then that it's too late
Oh, and the world can be a cruel place
But I'm holding out for a new day
I break the chain

Oh cause I can feel the darkness lift
The truth is gonna shine
Oh and up till then I know that I'll survive

And I hold on to hope
I'm not alone
I know my faith will take me home
And I'm gonna fight, harder than I cry
Yeah

Love is enough
I won't give up
I'm gonna hold my head above
I believe that even through the darkest night
The sun will rise

When I open up my eyes
And I'm looking to the sky
[?]

I hold on to hope
I'm not alone
I know my faith will take me home
And I'm gonna fight, harder than I cry
Yeah

Love is enough
I won't give up

I believe that even through the darkest night
The sun will rise
