

Chameleon / Comedian

Kathleen Edwards

I know your heart
It is a sacred thing
And you're a comedian
You hide behind your funny face
Every time, every time

Out of the shadows
Out of the cameras and the lights
You're a chameleon
And you hide behind your darker side

Every time, every time
I don't need a punchline
I don't need a punchline

Everybody's watching
The way that I see you could not change
I'll be your medium
For everything you wanted to say
'Cause out of the shadows
Out of the cameras and the lights
I'm a chameleon
I just hide behind the songs I write

See me smile
It's not for a funny joke
See me smile
It's not for a funny joke
It's for...

Every time, every time
I don't need a punchline
I don't need a punchline

Every time, every time
I don't need a punchline

See me smile
It's not for a funny joke
See me smile
It's not for a funny joke
It's for...

Every time, every time
I don't need a punchline
I don't need a punchline

Every time, every time
I don't need a punchline
(I don't need, I don't need)

Every time, every time
