

Indifference #1

Kathryn Williams

I think I know you but I never wanted you born

Thought I loved you thoughts don't come close

Indifference is everywhere
But it doesn't really matter

I never knew you were in love
For the first time
Thought you'd have me waiting
At the end of the line

We're different in every way
But it doesn't really matter
In no way could you say
I was the last to catch your love

One person to one person
Is how you face yourself
If you want more than that
You have to try the personals