Water To My Thirst

The intimate unspoken ways We touch each others lives Is a pledge of the tomorrows we will share And our battle with these darkening days Will pass as each one strives To remember our committment is to care

Chorus: You are water to my thirst You have been my first, last, and only loves Though you are many, we are one A family begun in a simple time A gentle rhyme like this could never show You may never know How I love you so

Though none alive can bind us There still remains a bond Renewed each passing moment by our choice These links of love will find us Growing every day more fond Of the harmonies our sharing souls will voice

And if our way is growing It is not perfect yet We may need all our lives to learn it's song There's more to music's flowing Than solo or duet And better still when many sing along

Kathy Mar