

Bleed

Katie Armiger

There's only so much of a person that you can take apart
You already shattered me, not even left my heart
Now I'm dying on your doorstep
And you're watchin' me crawl
And I don't want to be caught here where it's never your fault

Cause I've given you all of me,
And now you're leavin' me to bleed
Ohh.

You've broken all of me
And now you're scattering the parts and it's obvious that you don't care and love was never really there

I'm not gonna stand around here
When you're already gone
I'm tired of listening
Excuses go on and on

Cause I've given you all of me,
And now you're leavin' me to bleed.
Ohh.

It was never about me,
It was always about what you could be
And now that you left
I realize you were just a lie in disguise.

Given you all of me
And I'm not gonna sit here and bleed.
Noooo.
