

Until You Try

Katie Herzig

You said it the perfect way
On your own and out loud
You said the perfect way
You were strong and resound
They didn't want to hear it, but it's time

You're living in your high hopes
And I know that you're scared
Cause there is a hell below, anytime you go there
And even the perfect rhyme, is a hell of a find

And you won't know until you try
And you won't know until you try

You will be looking back on the days that were happy
And it will be hard to see why you've chosen to leave
Never forget the feeling, when I drive

And you won't know until you try
And you won't know until you try
