

Dream Big

Katrina Elam

There comes a time in every bodies life when you destiny is born

There's no doubt what your all about is there without a warning
When it comes you gotta take it and believe your gonna make it through

There's not a challenge you can't face

There's not a rainbow you can't chase

Dream big

Reach high

Don't ever be afraid to spread your wings and fly

With a heart full of faith a whole lotta luck and some love to see you through

Dream big and it just might come true

Always know what the future holds is in the hands of fate

And don't forget that when times get tough the gift is worth the wait

And when it finally comes together your star will shine forever more

And it could give hope to all the rest

Show them how to be the best

Dream big

Reach high

Don't ever be afraid to spread your wings and fly

With a heart full of faith a whole lotta luck and some love to see you through

Dream big and it just might come true

Oh with a heart full of faith a whole lotta luck and some love to see you through

Dream Big and it just might come true
