

Amazing For A Minute

Katy McAllister

Maybe it was your fault, I'd like someone to blame
I hope you know because of you I'll never let anyone in
I lost my direction every time you disappear
But this time it is me that's going to keep you far from near Honestly I'd open up if only I knew how Trust me it's not easy once you have been made out

To be amazing for a minute
Exciting for an hour
A week if I was lucky
To have you stick around
You pushed me to my limit
And basically succeeded
'Cause forever I'll believe that the best I'll be for now
Is amazing for a minute

This time I was dying to not fall in the game
I know him, he is different but then again everyone is
You made it seem like all I'm good for is only just to please
But not once did it occur to me I deserve much more than you could ever give to me
Honestly it's selfish feeling sorry for myself
But truthfully I'm past the point of trying to overcome self doubt

I was amazing for a minute
Exciting for an hour
A week if I was lucky
To have you stick around
You pushed me to my limit
And basically succeeded
'Cause forever I'll believe that the best I'll be for now

For the minute there's no such thing as time
Your soul wasn't in it, there's more than just the night
Where I existed, I invested all my time
Just to witness the bitter side of life
And I felt beautiful
But you never called me beautiful
I existed for a night

I was amazing for a minute
Exciting for an hour
A week if I was lucky
To have you stick around
You pushed me to my limit
And basically succeeded
'Cause forever I'll believe that the best I'll be for now
Is amazing for a minute
Exciting for an hour
A week if I am lucky
