

Quicker Than She Came

Katy McAllister

Her lips are poisonous;
His kiss it won't be missed;
She'll leave him just as quick as she came, leaving him at the tip of her tongue, cause She's smooth and subtle;
As a gun, she's far from humble;
Turns him on, left in a struggle, now she's gone, and he is left a fool

Fell for the devil;
She's not your average rebel, she'll make him fall in love, but
it's not written on her face;
She'll steal every last soul, reveal leads to no hope, to heal,
she'll take everything he was;
And leave quicker than she came.

A phantom in the night, no time for sappy goodbyes, darkness shades out all her lying, and she's anything but shy;
Makes heads turn, she fills their eyes, and now strong on a high;
They linger on her every line;
As she plans to take his life

Another fool fell for the devil;
She's not your average rebel, she'll make him fall in love, but
it's not written on her face;
She'll steal every last soul, reveal leads to no hope, to heal,
she'll take everything he was;
And leave quicker than she came.

Another fool fell for the devil;
She's not your average rebel, she'll make him fall in love, but
it's not written on her face;
She'll steal every last soul, reveal leads to no hope, to heal,
she'll take everything he was;
And leave quicker than she came

A fool fell for the devil;
She's not your average rebel, she'll make him fall in love, but
it's not written on her face,
She'll steal every last soul, reveal leads to no hope, to heal,
she'll take everything he was;
And leave quicker than she came