

If You Really Need Me Now

Kayak

Hiding my temper
Your rudeness amazes me so
I won't surrender
To feelings I'd better not show

Hardships I must endure
Don't ask me to go
Oh I'm sad at heart and insecure
But I can't let you know

I'm feeling deeply touched by what you've done
And I hope you see we've gone too far
But what's the use of confrontation
The way things are
I'll bear the scar

Sharpen my senses
To set up a well-prepared scheme
I can't bear this tension
Must stop you from being so mean

Struck by your killing glance
Estranged from your love
If only we could still be friends
We've suffered enough

Now we're bound together for all time
Everything will turn out fine you'll see
If you read these eyes that long to tell you
Abide with me
Confide in me

Must I keep on pleading
Baby no hard feelings
If you really need me now

Who am I to judge you
Should have tried to trust you
Guess I really need you now
Can't we stop our silly row?
