

Moments Of Joy

Kayak

Moments of joy then the ages of sadness surrounding you
Again
Love when he's there then he's gotta be leaving
You lose another friend

Lonely the nights when there's nothing beside you
But cold and empty sheets
Life is too tough, when then moments of love
Are the only things you need

Could there be somebody waiting outside
Only waiting there for you

Someone who knows even lonelier nights
And who longs for loving too?

Saddening silence, a smile or a gentle touch
Really'd help you get through
Now that your friends, your dear friends you once loved
So much
All forgot about you, you remember

The times you were the only one in their world
Their love outspoken, meant not to be unheard by you