

Water and sand and the rising beyond my view
Alone I stand here it's calling you
There is a reason to be here and cry
I know the ocean will understand why

The feeling the way I do
Tasting the salt and the wind cries your name again
Sharpened so cold makes me feel I've lost a friend
There's a reason that I'll never know

I couldn't follow why you had to go
And I can't comprehend
The wind blows away my fears
The ocean will drown all my tears

'Cause I've got to survive though I need your loving here
Seagull ... take my love wherever you may fly
Seagull ... bury all my feelings for her
To a place somewhere in the sky

There's a reason that I'll never know
I couldn't follow why you had to go
And I can't comprehend
The wind blows away my fears

The ocean willll drown all my tears
'Cause I've got to survive though I need your loving here
Seagull ... take my love wherever you may fly
Seagull ... bury all my feelings for her

To a place somewhere in the sky
Oh oh oh

Seagull ... take my love wherever you may fly
Seagull ... bury all my feelings for her
To a place somewhere in the sky
