

Gone Tomorrow (Here Today)

Keith Urban

A child held up in the sky
But I won't live with regret
Carpe Diem is the secret
'Cause it's
Gone tomorrow, here today
I ain't gonna waste it
Ain't gonna waste it
No, it's gone tomorrow
But it's here today
I won't let it slip away
I feel the rush, it's kicking in
And I wish this night would never end, no
We're never coming back around
Like shooting stars, we're burning out
It's Gone tomorrow, here today
I ain't gonna waste it
Ain't gonna waste it
No it's gone tomorrow
But it's here today
I won't let it slip away
I wanna feel, wanna touch the light
I look around for the friends that have gone and I'm reminded that it's all just a fantasy
But we get to choose what we wanna believe
And I wanna believe that there's something more Another level to the dream, right through the door
But right now's for real and it's fading fast
Better live 'cause we're never gonna get it back
It's gone tomorrow, here today
I said, it's gone tomorrow but it's here today
I won't let it slip away
I won't let it slip away
I won't let it slip
I won't let it slip away
