

Only You

Keith Urban

I've been through ups and downs
I haven't known which way to turn
And when I wander through this town
I only think of you

Only you, can take my bad heart and make it good
Only you, can take my crooked path and make it new

On the day that I was born
The cards were dealt, the dice were thrown
I think my destiny was drawn
I can only be with you

Only you, can take my bad heart and make it good
Only you, can take my crooked path and make it new

Only you, can take my bad heart and make it good
Only you, can take my crooked path and make it new

In My heart is only you.

And my soul is all there too

I built myself a prison cell
The walls are painted blue
Only you can let me out
Only you

Only you, can take my bad heart and make it good
Only you, can take my crooked path and make it new

Only you, can take my bad heart and make it good, girl
Only you, can take my crooked path and make it new

Only you, can take my bad heart and make it good
Only you, can take my crooked path and make it new

Only you, only you
