Kekal

Shining - darkened - warming coldness

I am, you are, in this mortal coil

There is something inside you who always try to fight against me

And something inside me who always want to deny you

An animal of pseudo-consciousness I have become

A light of truth is hiding inside my illicit darkness

So many years of seemingly unending contradictions

So many times I'd given up in battling this depression

An animal with lack of self-esteem I have become

Always mean to keep these devils within my cavities
