

Parachute

Keke Palmer

Your heart's beating fast
You open your eyes
And you look up to the sky
Standing at the ledge
Winding your hair
Turning back and forth fitting your mind
Should you keep your feet
On the ground in a safer place
Get away from the edge
Just let go
Laugh life in the face

When you jump
And you're falling
Stand towards the ground
I'm the one who'll always catch you laying
Ain't gonna let you down
I'll be your parachute
(I'll be your parachute)
I'll be your parachute
I'll be your parachute
I'll be your parachute
I'll be your parachute

I can be the one to carry you
But you have to learn to fly
I believe and you believe in yourself
Sometimes a way is to fear is to try
Try to keep your feet off the ground
To find a better place
You can run to the edge
Just let go
Laugh life in the face

When you jump
And you're falling
(And you're falling)
Stand towards the ground
(I'm the one)
I'm the one who'll always catch you laying
Ain't gonna let you down
I'll be your parachute
(I'll be your parachute)
I'll be your parachute

Feel like you about to fall
Your feet have lost it all
Let go of all the drama
Let me calm your soul
This string will never snap
I'll always have your back
Hold you up through the rough times
Got you forever
Tell me your problems
I'll protect you like shoulder pads
You know I'm there for you

When you jump
(I'll be your parachute)
I'll be your parachute
I'll be your parachute
I'll be your parachute
I'll be your parachute

Oh, your parachute
Oh, your parachute
Oh, your parachute
Oh, I can be your parachute
Oh, your parachute
