

Rather Walk Alone

Keke Palmer

Lookin around
All of this time my virtue hold me down
Where I am now?
Before you can say it you can count me out

Baby, I'm a fool
Walk walk walk walk walk on
Like this same will be a new trust trust trust gone
But the world against me
I'm not scared to walk alone
Let's agree to disagree
Sometimes you gotta walk alone
Though I won't let you change me
And it's time for that, something that hate me
No baby, before I let you take me
Down an empty road
I'd rather walk alone
I'd rather walk alone
I'd rather walk...

Did you hear the sound?
The sound of my breaking heart when it hit the ground
Nowhere to be found
Silence has never ever seemed so loud

Baby, I'm a fool
Walk walk walk walk walk on
Like this same will be a new trust trust trust gone
But the world against me
I'm not scared to walk alone
Let's agree to disagree
Sometimes you gotta walk alone
Though I won't let you change me
And it's time for that, something that hate me
No baby, before I let you take me
Down an empty road
I'd rather walk alone
I'd rather walk alone

I know you thought, know you thought that you had me trapped
Trapped in the corner, no never coming back
But I'm just getting started, what you think about that?
I'm just getting started, never gonna stop

I know you thought, know you thought that you had me trapped
Trapped in the corner, no never coming back
But I'm just getting started, what you think about that?
I'm just getting started, never gonna stop

But the world against me
But the world against me
I'm not scared to walk alone
I'm not scared to walk alone
Let's agree to disagree
Sometimes you gotta walk alone
You gotta walk alone
Though I won't let you change me

And it's time for that, something that hate me
No baby, before I let you take me
Down an empty road
I'd rather walk alone
I'd rather walk alone
Before I let you take me down an empty road
I'd rather walk alone
