

Beyond the Stars

Keldian

there's a voice inside me a distant memory
I know I've lived before the elder world has fallen to an age of wars

the tide has turned again

in a world made of dreams
open your eyes
release your astral ties
and you will transcend

I can hear the suffering the hate inside and it pulls me to the ground bleeding hands are trembling can you forgive?

is there courage to believe?
