

The Woman I Am

Kellie Pickler

Sometimes I cry at night
I fall to pieces with Patsy Cline
Man how many songs sound like that?
But that's just the woman I am

I like my coffee black
Three ice cubes in my Jack
Daddy taught me how to drink like a man
But that's just the woman I am

I'm stubborn and proud
And get loud with a beer in my hand
Sometimes I curse too much 'cause I don't give a damn
And that's the woman I am

I can paint the perfect disguise
Hide the pain behind my eyes
'Cause sometimes I can't get past the past
That made me the woman I am

I'm stubborn and proud
And get loud with a beer in my hand
Sometimes I curse too much 'cause I don't give a damn
And that's the woman I am
And that's the woman I am

Sometimes I cry at night
I fall to pieces with Patsy Cline
Man how many songs sound like that?
But that's just the woman I am

How many songs sound like that?
But that's just the woman I am
