War Paint

Kelly Clarkson

Face to face but miles away Building trenches out of empty spaces Lay here next to me And close the distance in between

I'll take off yours if you take off mine Reveal the things that we're trying to hide Take off yours if you take off mine Take off mine, yeah

'Cause we could be beautiful without our war paint Our war paint And we could have it all once we let our walls break Our walls break Why in the hell do we fight on the front line When we both know that we're here on the same side We could be beautiful without the mistake of our war paint

Scar to scar, I wanna know Every story that you've never told Don't shut me out, don't think too much Don't keep that barricade up

I'll take off yours if you take off mine Reveal the things that we're trying to hide Take off yours if you take off mine Take off mine, yeah

'Cause we could be beautiful without our war paint Our war paint And we could have it all once we let our walls break Our walls break Why in the hell do we fight on the front line When we both know that we're here on the same side We could be beautiful without the mistake of our war paint

So hold me close and kiss my skin Don't be afraid, let me in I'll hold you close and take your hand to my heart Here I am, yeah

'Cause we could be beautiful without our war paint Our war paint And we could have it all once we let our walls break Our walls break Why in the hell do we fight on the front line When we both know that we're here on the same side We could be beautiful without the mistake of our war paint

'Cause we could be beautiful without our war paint Our war paint And we could have it all once we let our walls break Our walls break Why in the hell do we fight on the front line When we both know that we're here on the same side We could be beautiful without the mistake of our war paint Jištěnoz www.txn.cz Our war paint