

Try And Forgive

The Kelly Family

Try and forgive, try and forget Forgive yourself and your friends and try not to hurt again
Try and forgive, try and forget
Forgive yourself and your friends
and try not to hurt again

From every side you've been condemned Stones, stones, stones

Hate only kills,
blind falls the heart
It pains the head
and your friends too and ties too, na, na
Hate only kills,
blind falls the heart
It pains the head
and your friends too and ties too, na, na

And I for one will not condemn you

Back of my friends, don't you can calm
And let the angry once swear of,
just sing and smile along Back of my friends, don't you can calm
And let the angry once swear of,
just sing and smile along

And forgive yourself, yes, forgive yourself, as I have forgiven you Secrets of life are hard to find So get your tea in to this one who cheers bread and wine Secrets of life are heard to find

So get your tea in to this one
who cheers bread and wine
And feel forgiven, that's important, feel forgiven
To this one who cheers bread and wine And forgive others than to this one who cheers bread and wine
