

Edge of Your Atmosphere

Kelly Osbourne

Let's get to the point
Everything you have
You don't want
All you seem to do is whine for more
You never here a word I say
I'm wondering what motivates

Your selfish intuition cause you get your way
All the games you play
Makes everybody run away
I'm sitting here just waiting
For you to come around

Why you always think that I'm so retarded
Standing on the edge of your atmosphere
You have everything you always wanted
But life's not full and you're miserable

Where do we go from here
It's getting really hard to justify
Your intolerable behavior
When it comes to me

My Attempts to break the ice
Chance depends on the roll of the dice
Can you help me understand
What is it you fear
All the games you play
Makes everybody run away
I'm sitting here just waiting
For you to come around

Why you always think that I'm so retarded
Standing on the edge of your atmosphere
You have everything you always wanted
But life's not full and you're miserable
Look at all the things you've said and done
I can't feel sorry for you anymore
It's only fair to say
That your presence I hold dear
So sorry I'm still here

All day and night we do is fight it
Doesn't matter who's wrong or right
