

Heaven

Kelly Rowland

I wanna love together
Kiss and touching feels better
Now that I have, have you
I couldn't ask for nothing more.
Like a misty breeze on a summer day
Or the warmth of sun after rain, you,
Always seem to balance me with your love
If you're far away
I want you near might sound cliché
But my words are so sincere can't you
Taste the joy inside my tears (I'm so in love)

I've found love's treasure in this ocean of pleasure
And now that I have, have you
I won't search for anything more
Oh love
What have you done to me
This crazy feeling I can't describe
It feels like love it must be love it must be love
Feels like snow caressing mountain tops
When I see your eyes from afar
All I can do is run with open arms
Love is all I got
I feel so at home
When we're alone, oh

Love, when I'm in your arms
Feels like I'm melting into you
You keep me so warm
Ooh, I feel so high above
Caught a glimpse of heaven in your eyes
Thanks for showing me love (Your love so good)

Baby we will grow together; this is a joint endeavor
And there's nothing I'd rather see,
Than the love in your eyes for me
'Cause this feeling is so surreal,
You touch me places I didn't feel
I used won't but now I will trust in love
I'm elated and overjoyed.
Over this connection between a girl and boy
I was empty till you filled the void,
I'm so in love

Love, when I'm in your arms
Feels like I'm melting into you
You keep me so warm
Ooh, I feel so high above
Caught a glimpse of heaven in your eyes
Thanks for showing me love (Your love so good)
