

Love/Hate

Kelly Rowland

I am so in love
I am so in hate
I just can't comprehend it, uh
You get me so high
You get me so low
I can't show what I'm feelin'
Never was the type
To let someone like
You get up under my skin, no
Try like hell but you
Didn't care for real
You stepped on my feelings

Ooh

See I love to love you boy
And I love to hate you
But I got to let you know
I'ma have to let you go
See I love to love you boy
And I love to hate you
But I got to let you know
I'ma have to let you go

Love to feel the love
Love to heal from pain
Is there really a difference?
Wonder who is right
Wonder who is wrong
I'm just feeling some tension, uh
You can't compromise
We can't comb this out
We should really be chillin'
'Cause I've wasted so much time
Love is on the line
I've made a decision
Yeah

It's useless to try and work things out
Don't need all of this stress
You're not worth it
I'm tired of all the ups and downs
So goodbye, I'm leaving
Made up my mind

See I love to love you boy
And I love to hate you
But I got to let you know
I'ma have to let you go
See I love to love you boy
And I love to hate you

It's useless to try and work things out

I'm tired of all the ups and downs
So goodbye, I'm leaving
Made up my mind

See I love to love you boy
And I love to hate you
And I love to hate you
