Up All Night

Kelly Willis

The sun is breaking on a new day You'd be with me if I had my way I usually take the hard times smiling But I've been up all night crying

You made a promise meant for keeping
Then I gave up on our love so easy
You said that you felt good for trying
But I've been up all night crying

I guess I can make it on my own I'll get used to being alone

I'm going face to face with a heartache And I won't quit till the pain breaks No there won't be no use denying That I'll be up all night crying

I guess I can make it on my own I'll get used to being alone

The sun is breaking on a new day... Yes I've been up all night crying
