

What Christmas Means

Kem

Who would rise in all of the earth
To heal the broken heart of men
Who would rise hunger and thirst
A kind of love that never ends

Love that glows love that shines
Love that spends the test of time
I hope you find what Christmas means
Love that lasts love that sings
Love that steals the hearts of kings
I hope you find what Christmas means

Who would rise and dare to believe
This paradise of hope and peace
Who would rise faithful and free
This kind of love will never cease

Love that fills you love that floats
Love that burns until it grows
I hope you find what Christmas means
Love that dreams love that moves
Love that nurtures every wound
I hope you find what Christmas means

Love
Love
Love
Love
I hope you find what Christmas means

Who would rise so all the world could see
This holiness in you and me
Who would rise truly thankful to be
All the love you'll ever need

Love that stays love that cries
Love that yearns the human kind
I hope you find what Christmas means
Love that's tender warm and true
Love that's made for me and you
I hope you find what Christmas means

Love that sees love that knows
Love that never let's you go
Love that sound love that's grand
Love that always understand

Love that's sacred love that chose
Love that's precious to be hold
Love that's patient love that's kind
Love that seeks until it finds

Love that maze love that's shore
Love that brings my heart to yours
Love that's grateful strong and wise
Love that reads between the lines

Love that's fray love that's sweet
Love that's always yours to keep
Love that leave you wanting more
Love that's all we're looking for

Love explores the reason why
Love that pressed your lips to mine
Love that always lets you win
Love that makes you call again

Love that glows love that shines
Love that spends the test of time
Love that lasts love that sings
Love that steals the hearts of kings

Love that fills you love that floats
Love that burns until it grows
Love that dreams love that moves
Love that nurtures every wound

Love that sees love that knows
Love that never let's you go
Love that sound love that's grand
Love that always understand
