

Glasses Man

Ken Laszlo

Glasses, glasses, glasses, glasses, glasses man
Glasses man, you never open your eyes
Glasses man, you never open your eyes
Glasses man, you never open your eyes
Glasses man, you never open your eyes

Every day, every night
Glasses man, you never open your eyes
You can only understand
Your interior, eyes

Right or wrong, you don't mind
Glasses man, you can tight your way
You don't really need disguise
In another compromise, lies

Just a friend of mine can only talk to me tonight
Just a Glasses man, not a Superman
Not a robot like a man with feeling in your eyes
Just a Glasses man, not a Superman

Glasses man, you never open your eyes
Glasses man, you never open your eyes
You can only understand your interior

Glasses man, you never open your eyes
Glasses man, you never open your eyes
You don't really need disguise
Nor a compromise lies

Glasses man, you never open your eyes
Glasses man, you never open your eyes
Glasses man, you never open your eyes

Glasses man, you never open your eyes

Sun of rain, you don't care
Glasses man, you always dance in the night
You are looking for protection
Of your interior light

Just a friend of mine can only talk to me tonight
Just a Glasses man, not a Superman
Not a robot like a man with feeling in your eyes
Just a Glasses man, not a Superman

Glasses man, you never open your eyes
Glasses man, you never open your eyes
You can only understand your interior

Glasses man, you never open your eyes
Glasses man, you never open your eyes
You don't really need disguise
Nor a compromise lies

Glasses man, you never open your eyes
Glasses man, you never open your eyes

Glasses man, you never open your eyes
Glasses man, you never open your eyes

Glasses man, you never open your eyes
Glasses man, you never open your eyes
Glasses man, you never open your eyes
Glasses man, you never open your eyes

Glasses man, you never open your eyes
Glasses man, you never open your eyes
