

Baptized In Blacklight

Kenna

Like a healer she comes to me with solace for my spirit
Thoughts in cages locked in mazes hearin' echoes of yesterday
Met my demons, fightin' angels 7 times a million ties
Through phases and ages consumed by the fire

Still when the sun goes out and the night is all a haze
Let the flood come down and wash it all away
Baptized in blacklight, I feel your touch and I'm whole again

Now I'm a criminal who surrendered, found my truth in the consequence
Blind but guided, divided with a mind that's born again
When I needed you entered, you entered, you entered
Fixin' broken, broken pieces, singin' hallelujah

When the sun goes out and the night is all a haze
Let the flood come down and wash it all away
Baptized in blacklight, I feel your touch and I'm whole again

Still when the sun goes out and the night is all a haze
Let the flood come down and wash it all away
Baptized in blacklight, I feel your touch and
Baptized in blacklight, I feel your touch and
I'm baptized in blacklight, I feel your touch and I'm whole again
