

Never let me down

Kenna

Face to face, Falling grace What an empty and angry start out of place and out of phase as we tear ourselves apart and through it all Inside I bleed for something to fill the void

even now at the bottom of this fall
I can hear the sounds of your promises to never let me down wasting time, aching mind never let me put you aside thoughts conspire, mental fire threatening to burn me alive

and through it all
Inside I bleed for something
to fill the void
I gotta feel again

even now at the bottom of this fall

shadows that im falling in cycles that Im killing dying in the process for better days, for better days I can hear you calling
If I could breathe you in again Heaven knows I want it

even now at the bottom of this fall

to never let me down
to never let me down
