Enter My Dream

Kenny Loggins

Enter my dream, baby, Enter my dream.

Jung river won't you stop for me awhile, Hold me like a sleepy child, And take me where I'm bound to be.

I'm walkin' on the wings of make-believe, I'm livin' out the fantasy, That I know well, I've been visitin' there all my life.

'Cause you see, Happiness finds me sleepin', There I know I go beyond reality. It'll be effortless and easy, Somebody take me there.

I'm livin' in a dream, baby, Livin' in a dream.

I'll play for you, You'll play a tune for me. A masterpiece of harmony, That everybody here can do.

A hundred writers pass the words along, And suddenly we've made a song. That sounds sweet and clear, Something every dreamer can hear.

And we sing, Happiness finds me sleepin', There I know I go beyond reality. It'll be effortless and easy, Somebody take me there. I'm livin' in a ... (Instrumental) Enter my dream.

You're waitin' for the wind to start to rise, Well take a look, and close your eyes, Away to a place every dreamer can share.

And that's where, Happiness finds us sleepin', There I know I go beyond reality. It'll be effortless and easy, Somebody take me there. Somebody take me where, We'll be livin' in a dream, baby, Enter my dream.
