

With This Ring

Kenny Loggins

I have believed I would always be free and wild
No promises made or broken
But look at me now I come to you like a child
Here with my arms wide open

I follow the song that the voice inside
Whisper to my soul
How could I not
It's my heart that brought me to paradise

I'll be your love, I'll be your friend
I'll be the summer breeze that never ends
For the rest of your days
I'll be the road that takes you home

Like the sun and the moon
And the star that guides you on
I will be true to my heart
I promise you with this ring

Now I can say this is more than just wishful dreams
Nothing could be more real than love
Has the way of bringing you to your knees
Lifting you up to heaven

I see the rest of my life
When I look in your eyes
I love what I see
Living with you on the sunrise side of paradise

I'll be your love, I'll be your friend
I'll be the summer breeze that never ends
For the rest of your days
I'll be the road that takes you home

Just like the sun and the moon
And the star that guides you on
I will be true to my heart
I promise you with this ring

May this circle never see an end
Here and now
I willingly place
A part of you upon my hand

I'll be your love, I'll be a friend
I'll be the summer breeze that never ends
For the rest of your days
I'll be the road that takes you home

Just like the sun and the moon
And the star that guides you on
I will be true to my heart
I promise you with this ring
