

Am I Too Late

Kenny Rogers

I don't' understand your hesitation
You always were so quit to say, what needed to be said
But you're standing there saying nothing
Please, say something, just don't tell me I'm too late.

It took a while for me to understand my feelings for you
I hope it's not too late to say I love you, 'cause I do
Before you turn away and the chance I had to love you is gone
You've got to know I've finally found a feeling
I know I've not told you but I've lived my life to hold you.

Am I too late to show myself, is it too late to let you know
Do you feel me, I'm touching you
It scares me to think you might say "no"
'Cause it's too late to let you go.

But you're standing there saying nothing
Please, say something, just don't tell me I'm too late.

Just don't tell me that I'm too late to show myself, is it too late to let you know
Do you feel me, I'm touching you
It scares me to think you might say "no"
'Cause it's too late to let you go.