San Francisco Mabel Joy

Kenny Rogers

His daddy was an honest man, red dirt Georgia farmer His mamma lived her short life having kids and baling hay He had fifteen years, an ache inside to wander He hopped a freight in Waycross, wound up in L.A. Lord the cold nights had no pity on a Waycross Georgia farmboy Most days he went hungry, then the summer came He met a girl known on the strip as San Francisco's Mabel Joy Destitutions child born of an L.A. street called shame Growing up came quietly in the arms of Mabel Joy Laughter found their mornings, brought a meaning to his life Yes, the night before she left, sleep came and left that Waycro ss country boy with dreams of Georgia cotton and a California w ife Sunday morning found him standing 'neath the red light of her d oor When a right cross sent him reeling, put him face down on the f loor In place of Mabel Joy he found a merchant mad merine, he growle d that Georgia neck is red, but sonny your still green He turned twenty-one in a gray rock federal prison The old judge had no mercy for a Waycross Georgia boy Starin' at those four gray, in silence he would listen That midnight freight he knew would take him back to Mabel Joy Sunday morning found him lyin' 'neath the red light of her door With a bullet in his side he cried have you seen Mabel Joy Stunned and shaken someone said she's not here no more She left this house four years today They say she's looking for some Georgia farm boy
