True Lies

Kenny Wayne Shepherd

Where do you go after midnight When all the doors should be closed Your alibis just don't sound right I asked but nobody knows How can you look in the eyes And make it sound so very nice With those True Lies

Someone's been sleepin' in my bed This room don't smell like you and me Who's that been sneakin' out the window Do you think I'm too blind to see When you look me in the eyes And, make it sound so very nice With those True Lies It was a clever disguise But, girl, I'm gettin' wise To your True Lies

You been doin' this so long now You're thinkin' it's the truth I guess it don't seem so wrong if it Ain't bein' done to you Gotta lot to learn, baby, You can keep it down Word gets in the wind Then it's bound to blow back around

Girl, can you give me a reason Bet you don't even know why Can't figure out what you're thinkin' Or what it is you're tryin' to justify When you look me in the eyes And make it sound so very nice With your True Lies It was a clever disguise But, girl, I'm gettin' wise To your True Lies You can laugh, you can cry But, girl, I just can't buy Those True Lies
