Kent

Your lazy moves give you away
Staring at the lenses that record your day
So laugh your nervous laugh again
And I will listen in

We'll wire you up and take your pulse
Far away from any of the pain this dulls
I press my cheek against the glass
It's cool but it won't last

You know that it's one of a thousand ways
It's one of a thousand ways
It's one of a thousand ways
To see right through you dear

Silence, action, camera 2
We go climbing all the walls for who
Your lazy moves are laying low
We watch you come and go

And now we fade out fast to the blackout
And we are heading for our Isola
And then we fade out fast to the blackout
We fade as fast as we fall
We fall
