

In The Silence

KenZiner

We awake to the sights
They're hard to ignore
We see the angels home
As we walk through the door
It seems our minds are one
We shall want no more

We've lived through another life
We've missed the chance it's true

In the silence
Where it all begins
In the silence
We say goodbye again

We must choose our fate
As I look into your eyes
Another journey awaits
This we must visualize

We've lived through another life
We've missed the chance it's true

In the silence
Where it all begins
In the silence
We say goodbye again

Maybe once again we'll be
As we have so before
It seems we are as one
We shall need no more

We've lived through another life
We've missed the chance it's true

In the silence
In the silence
In the silence
In the silence
