

Into The Light

KenZiner

Step into the light

I hear her voice call from another day
I close my eyes slow, is this her home?
I reach my heart out for another sign
The candles blow out, we're all alone
I've counted all the days, through all the years
I've always wondered why, you seemed so near

Step into the light...into the light
Step into the light...look into

Look into my eyes, look through my soul
It's forever, soon you will know
As you are today, so I once was
As I am today, you will become

Step into the light...into the light
Step into the light.. into the light

Am I dreaming, or am I awake
Please don't leave me, no not again
Well I shall follow, wherever you will go
I know the answer to bring the end
As you are today, I now will be
As we go today, we shall be free

Step into the light, into the light
Step into the light, into the light
